

A letter from me to you...

Dear Gifted One,

You are your own perfection! Just the way you are!

I know at times you feel like you don't fit in to this world. You're different. Out-of-sync.

Well, you are!

But that is a good thing!

Here's why. You have been born with your own unique genius deep inside you

You learn things super fast, even when you don't know it.

You are inquisitive, questioning what is and exploring what could be.

You think outside-the-box, making connections that others can't see.

You feel deeply, enabling you to sense what others sense. See what they see. Think what they think.

You are very aware, intuitively grasping situations, concepts and challenges.

You dream BIG, seeing what can be courageously accomplished. Taking you into the extraordinary.

You are inherently creative, solving problems society so badly needs.

...and you now get to share this with the world!

So my wish for you is that you ...

Take the time to really get to know you, before you try to fit in

Give yourself permission to accept and embrace your abilities as something 'good'.

Don't listen to anyone that tries to stop you from being all of you.

Decide to be 'happy in your own skin' and not try to jump into the skins of others.

Trust your inner GPS to guide how you show up on this planet.

Find your place in this world by being the INSPIRATION, the ILLUMINATION and the GENIUS this world needs, as it becomes an even better place to live!

And my last wish for you is...

Believe in your audacious self. You've got this!

Go after your big dreams! Coz that's who you are!

The world is ready to hear from you!

Ciao for now,

Bronwyn
